I feel like I just had some weird dream...

RATTLE...

Say... Why...

Are you so nice... to me...?

CLATTER...

...Actually, in the past,

I also had my life saved by someone, just like you...

We woke up, had breakfast at the lodge, did a bit of shopping, and left North Bale on a deer carriage. It would take half a day to get to the mountain where my friend lives, and then we would have to hike a little to get to his house. Snow deer are strong, but somewhat slow. As the carriage swayed, taking us to our destination, we had another chance to talk.

I told Reszurre that my parents abandoned me soon after I was born, and when I was on the brink of starvation, a demon picked me up, saving my life, which was why I couldn't just leave her alone when I first saw her. After that, we had a smooth trip, as it thankfully didn't snow that morning.

Huh... I see...

Oh...

You're one scrawny-looking boy, aren't 'cha.

Come with me, I'll get you a bite of something.
